Money Needed For Infantile Paralysis

Efforts to raise the money needed in Jefferson County to exceed $100,000 by Christmas, or at least by the first of the year, are on in Louisville, and the Miles of Dimes may have been helped through instigation of a "Miles of Nickels" stunt. Since there are more than 100,000 people, it is pointed out, more money with "small change" — but no dimes — will "pick up" the $100,000. Jefferson County already has to its credit more than $226,000 toward the prevention or elimination of infantile paralysis. $61,000 has been received this year. Some of the money raised will go toward relieving and curing crippled children.

The Kentucky Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is lacking the move for more funds.

October Grand Jury In Recommendations

Visiting County institutions and the Central State Hospital at Lakeland, the October Grand Jury, which has been publicly and privately praised for its excellent work, found general conditions as good as could be expected but recommended a number of important improvements.

While the food was good at the County Jail, and Jailer George Berry had made the old institution stand out impressively with paint, a recreation room, and other departures, more good results may be attained by the purchase of books, Bibles were suggested.

A modern, entirely new institution on the order of a penal farm was worthy of consideration. New kitchen equipment installed was an improvement, but fire protection was needed.

The City Workhouse was found clean and well run by Edward M. DeForester. This institution needs improvements, and a penal farm was the answer, it was reported.

Furthermore, there should be more, rug-making facilities and other domestic types of employment for the women. More fire protection here is also needed.

The Owen Prison was found in excellent condition, and those responsible were roundly praised. The jail was found to be completely remodeled, Grand Jury visiting members said.

Lillian Hines was complimented on her excellent work at the Home of the Aged, where much is still needed, including fireproofing, paint and new hall-way flooring. A sprinkler system was also needed.

Some residents of the area are opposing the location of the hospital. They presented their objections through a petition to the Planning and Zoning Commission. ### Albert D. Cash To Be Cincinnati's Mayor

Albert D. Cash, a Charlester, is to be the next mayor of Cincinnati under that city's "P-R" or proportional-representative system, according to an announcement made by Harry J. Gilligan, chairman of the Charter Campaign Committee, after a meeting in that city last Wednesday night.

Councilman Edward N. Waldvogel will be vice-mayor. Councilman-elect Charles F. Taft will be majority bloc leader and chairman of the Council's Finance Committee.

Cash, a prominent business man, will also be chairman of the Public Utilities Committee, and Waldvogel, also prominent in business circles, will be chairman of the important Highways Committee.

The progressive program of the Charter, which includes proposed expressways and other planned municipal improvements, will be carried out, methods of financing being already underway.

The Queen City Charterites were overwhelmingly in the recent election, in spite of a strenuous effort to defeat the charter system, the voting result being considered a decided rebuke to those who would do away with the present popular method of city government which aims to give a strictly business administration, with proper economies, but decided expansion.

Cincinnati employs a city manager as well as having a mayor and councilmen, and enjoys the credit of being one of the nation's best governed and most progressive cities.

Southern Bell Enlarges Phone Service Here

The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company has added 56,554 more telephones in rural areas since the war ended, according to the company's annual report.

This means that Southern Bell has over 100 per cent more subscribers in rural areas now than on V-J Day.

By the end of the year, Southern Bell is expected to approach the 62,000 mark in their postwar drive to add more than 135,000 rural telephones. The three-year objective announced in 1945.

Despite the strides made in connecting new customers, the continuing demand for service is such that there were 56,029 unmet applications for Southern Bell Telephones in rural areas at the end of October. Every effort is being made to accelerate the program still further, Green said, in order to fill these applications as soon as possible.

During the first ten months of this year, Southern Bell built additional rural lines at the fastest rate in history. The 37,489 poles and 21,837 miles of wire, added since January 1, exceed the record totals established during the same period last year.

High View News

By Mrs. Joe Baete
Bro. McGinnis and his congregation from the Meadow Home Baptist Church have been sponsoring a meeting held at the High View School for the past week. The purpose is to start a mission here. The meeting was well attended and several folks placed their membership there. A Bro. Mathis did the speaking and the messages were fine. There will be Sunday School and preaching services every Sunday throughout the winter at this place until they feel further organized. I wish to extend my personal sympathy to the following bereaved families: Berry, Block and Kennedy. May you all realize that "All things work together for good to them that love the Lord, and are called according to his purpose." Rom. 8-28.

We are glad to report some of the sick on the road to mending. John Clark and Mrs. Helen Boston are both home from the hospital and we do hope they will continue to improve and be well soon.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Koehler spent the day Sunday, November 9, in Indiana with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hermann and Mrs. Edith Ruby.

Mr. and Mrs. William Easley and children were Wednesday night, November 5, supper guests of his aunt, Mrs. Joe Baete and family.

Mrs. Sophia Conn spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Foreman. Mrs. Foreman is her sister and has been real sick.

The all-day meeting of the Ladies' Bible Class was held in the home of Mrs. Grace Lane last Friday. The morning was spent in study of the first two chapters of Ephesians and the afternoon in piecing a quilt. The day was enjoyed by all, especially the lunch. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. A. J. Goins on December 5.

The High View P. T. A. held their regular monthly meeting last Thursday. A good number was present. The next meeting will be on December 4 because the regular meeting date comes too close to Christmas to make plans for our annual dinner for the children. So every one come out and let's give the kiddos a treat again this year; and the more co-operation the president has the better things will turn out.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baete and boys were Sunday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Eldridge of Seatonville. Mrs. Eldridge has been home for a week now from the Central State Hospital where she has been for the past eleven years. They gave her those shock treatments this summer and they wonder for her, and may the Lord continue to bless her that she may continue to be well and enjoy her family the rest of her life. She has four boys, two at home and two married. All four served in World War II of which she remembers nothing.

We hold out hope for the man who can look in the mirror and laugh at what he sees.

We've heard to get the best of an argument is to keep out of it. Sam said the other day the only thing that will turn a man's head quicker than money is a skirt.

OUR DEMOCRACY

ANTICIPATING THE COMING SEASON, THE FARM FAMILY PREPARES FOR THE FIRST FREEZE...

With the new juke box the Farmers really had the crowds on these meeting nights. Supervisor Kay Niman says that the club will soon have a ping-pong table so they will be all equipped. Last week their meeting turned into a "Sadie Hawkins Dance" and all the boys, including Hunter Lusk, got rushed off their feet by the Dogpatch girls.

The club is looking forward to November 23 when the County orchestra stops by their gym. This band is receiving enthusiastic applause in the County, as it is composed of teenagers and plays for the various clubs in the best possible way.

The Fincastle Teen-Age Club is learning a new trick every week. It all started at their Halloween party when Miss Betty Redwine, County supervisor, directed games and stunts.

The club's supervisor, John Gettler, carries the box on last week and had every one guessing where the missing coin was, and that the "victim" was supposed to do. These teenagers are finding out that there is more to a club than dancing, and they like it, too!

Many illustrious couples were seen at the County-wide dance on Friday night. None other than our council chairman, Maurice Owen, with our artist who drew many of the posters used in decorations. Corrie Whit, both students at Fern Creek High School.

Also seen were Cane Runita, Peggy Taylor, Don McFarland, and from Jeffersontown way came Shirley Miller and Teddy Trautwine, president and vice-president, respectively, of the Co-ed Teen-Age Club there. Did you all have fun?

Settle were present. Mrs. Settle urged all members to attend the 4-H Achievement meeting which is to be held at Fern Creek High School December 6.

The officers for this year are as follows: Shirley Brauner, president; Shirley Yates, vice president; Helen Richardson, secretary; Helen Woolridge, song leader and Thomas Walsh, news reporter. — Thomas Walsh, reporter.

Mr. Marshall Collier died at his home, Wednesday morning, November 12, after a lingering illness. He made his home with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lloyd, both of whom have passed away. Since their death the family cared for him, but he was unable to find comfort during his long illness. He was the last of his immediate family, leaving one half brother and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the McFarland Funeral Home by Rev. Noah Benningfield. He was a loyal and faithful member of the Masonic lodge which had charge of services at the grave.

The November meeting of the W. S. C. was one of the most interesting of the year, with Mrs. H. W. Wigginton as leader, Mrs. L. L. Barnes at the piano, Mrs. M. B. Porter presiding, and Mrs. World for children, making us realize the task before the entire family, and the future well-being of the younger generation.

Mrs. J. V. McAfee, assisted by Mrs. E. B. Porter, gave an illustrated presentation of stewardship with musical interludes of appropriate hymns. Mrs. M. B. May and Mrs. C. N. Porter. The Week of Prayer offering was reported to have increased to $50.00.

Mrs. R. E. McAfee, her daughter, Mrs. Barney Spurr and Becky, spent the week end in Cincinnati with the former's son, Harris McAfee and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Moore visited the week end with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McAfee and family. Mrs. Moore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McAfee and wife.

Mrs. Marie Rouse visited her daughter, Mrs. George Maddox, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ode Haele, Jeffersontown, were evening callers last Monday of her sister, Mrs. Georgia Moore.

Doris Ann and Phyllis Pound visited the week end with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McAfee and family.

Callers of T. H. Parrish last week were Rev. M. B. May, Nic McFarland, Mrs. V. K. Copeland, Mrs. George Moore, Mrs. Geneva Dugan, Mrs. M. A. Harris, John Brathwaite, Bert Hall, O. Armstrong, W. D. Ella, R. E. McAfee, Maurice McAfee and P. A. Parrish.

Mrs. R. E. McAfee, Mrs. V. K. Copeland, Mrs. George Maddox were week-end guests of Mrs. Martha Haskell, Louisville.

Mrs. M. E. McAfee, Misses Lela Jean and Maurice Marie, Mrs. Charles Abell Long and Jimmy McAfee were shopping in the city Saturday.

TEEN-AGE NEWS

With the new juke box the Farmers really had the crowds on these meeting nights. Supervisor Kay Niman says that the club will soon have a ping-pong table so they will be all equipped. Last week their meeting turned into a "Sadie Hawkins Dance" and all the boys, including Hunter Lusk, got rushed off their feet by the Dogpatch girls.

The club is looking forward to November 23 when the County orchestra stops by their gym. This band is receiving enthusiastic applause in the County, as it is composed of teenagers and plays for the various clubs in the best possible way.

The Fincastle Teen-Age Club is learning a new trick every week. It all started at their Halloween party when Miss Betty Redwine, County supervisor, directed games and stunts.

The club's supervisor, John Gettler, carries the box on last week and had every one guessing where the missing coin was, and that the "victim" was supposed to do. These teenagers are finding out that there is more to a club than dancing, and they like it, too!

Many illustrious couples were seen at the County-wide dance on Friday night. None other than our council chairman, Maurice Owen, with our artist who drew many of the posters used in decorations. Corrie Whit, both students at Fern Creek High School.

Also seen were Cane Runita, Peggy Taylor, Don McFarland, and from Jeffersontown way came Shirley Miller and Teddy Trautwine, president and vice-president, respectively, of the Co-ed Teen-Age Club there. Did you all have fun?

Settle were present. Mrs. Settle urged all members to attend the 4-H Achievement meeting which is to be held at Fern Creek High School December 6.

The officers for this year are as follows: Shirley Brauner, president; Shirley Yates, vice president; Helen Richardson, secretary; Helen Woolridge, song leader and Thomas Walsh, news reporter. — Thomas Walsh, reporter.

Mr. Marshall Collier died at his home, Wednesday morning, November 12, after a lingering illness. He made his home with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lloyd, both of whom have passed away. Since their death the family cared for him, but he was unable to find comfort during his long illness. He was the last of his immediate family, leaving one half brother and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the McFarland Funeral Home by Rev. Noah Benningfield. He was a loyal and faithful member of the Masonic lodge which had charge of services at the grave.

The November meeting of the W. S. C. was one of the most interesting of the year, with Mrs. H. W. Wigginton as leader, Mrs. L. L. Barnes at the piano, Mrs. M. B. Porter presiding, and Mrs. World for children, making us realize the task before the entire family, and the future well-being of the younger generation.

SMOKE RINGS

By Charlie Vetter

The "Pipe of the Week" award this time goes to Dee Wells, veteran baseball umpire.

Dee richly merits the "Honor Pipe." Widely known for years in and about Jefferson County as an outstanding umpire, Ole Smoke just found out that he should be better known as a Christian fellow who likes to do things for other people.

Yep, by sheer accident, we found out that Dee, who travels for a Louisville concern, keeps an eagle-eye peeled for groups of kids playing on the sandlots and school grounds.

If Dee notices that those kids are using barrel staves for bats or mop handles, Ole Smoke's team is used to use in Schmitzberg's "Rocky" 20's. The "Pal of Kids" reaches into his trunk command and makes the kids a present of a good bat.

You can't least a guy like that always looking for an opportunity to do good for others. It was setting up.

It was all for free! Ole Oak Dee Wells, "I live out in the country, and I feel that I ought to contribute something to the cause of a good program established for the benefit of children."

Keep your eye for kids, people like that... and there's more of that breed around than you might think! There's "Jolly John" Heldman, out in Kenwood, who'll work early and late (all for free), it's for kids.

Smoke Ringer visited with the Alumnae of Bardonia High School last night, and soon you'll see a full-time recreation program there that'll be a carbon copy of Jefferson County's.

Ole Smoke just finished a sashay over Kentucky... Ole Bob Wilcox, of Mt. Washington Tuesday night, said he'd be glad to have his regards to Kenneth Lam, Bob says, and the State agree, that Kenneth Lam can do more with high school kids in a basketball team.

Kenneth Lam was one of the outstanding improvements made by your alert Jefferson County Board of Education. Even when you sign up musicians and school men like Kenzie, you can get both bands and a good improvement—and fast!

There's never a dull moment at the offices of your Jefferson County Board of Education. As evidenced by the call secretary Jane Struble received.

A very excited man called County Recreation to ask about that starling who dropped his "fat nutty"... Birds, birds, what are you going to do about these birds?

Jane called on Mr. J. Lockwood and Mrs. D. J. Lockwood, who are spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Humes.

Sorry to hear Mr. and Mrs. James McCullough are not so well.

Dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bates Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. C. Mattingly, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Mattingly, and Mrs. A. D. Mattingly and Mrs. Nell Saret from Oklahoma City.

There were 13 children at the Junior Christian Endeavor Sunday evening. They are a lively group.

The Senior Christian Endeavor visited the Methodist Church Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burkholder were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hornbeck.

Elliott Hornbeck is getting married to Mrs. Verna Moore. Mrs. Sherman Miller is progressing very nicely after her stay at the hospital.

The meeting at the Methodist Church is progressing nicely. Eight young persons have come forward to far. The evangelist, Mr. Woodson, seems to be a very talented and earnest young man.

Mrs. Edna W. Armstrong, who is getting along very well after an operation, is now at home.

COLORED RECREATION

"The Voice of The Community" On November 5, at Harrods Creek, Miss Lilly Mae Brown was present with 16 of her young people. This community is making a step forward, inasmuch as putting in a ping-pong table.

We had 17 boys and girls present November 7 at Harrods Creek. In this community they are working on a drama which will be presented in the near future. Another whole evening of games and music.

I visited Berrytown November 8 and was surprised to have 25 boys and girls on Saturday morning. Most of this period here was spent in games and music.

We went to Jeffersontown in the afternoon, November 8, and were glad to see so many little people present.

At Newburg November 10 there was an attendance of 20 boys and six girls. It was surprising to see how well these boys and girls were getting along in singing. We are looking for more to participate, because we are preparing for a minstrel singing program at Berrytown November 23. All communities are planning to take part.

The County Board of Education is planning November 11 at Jeffersontown. Ping pong, quiet games, and arts and crafts were enjoyed by all.

Don't forget the time and place, as we are expecting all communities to be present at Berrytown November 25 at 8 p. m. for our Thanksgiving program. Every community is asked to contribute food for the needy.

Prohibitionists talk a fast game—but let's keep our eyes on the ball!

When the legal Alcoholic Beverage Industry goes out, so do some important items as tax revenues for state and counties.

If we want adequate old age pensions, school revenues and other benefits, these tax payments have to be made... if not by the Industry, perhaps by you.

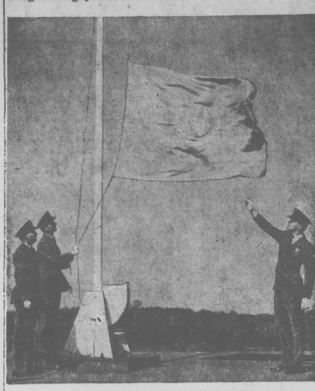

Licensed Sale is a tax-paying system. Prohibition is a tax-dodging system.

SHOES TOO SMALL

One of my readers suggested some days ago that I had not yet spoken about old days of trying to wear shoes several sizes too small for actual feet, or, as we used to express it, trying to wear shoes that fit the head rather than the foot. Now I did mention, several years back, the painful task of putting on boots in the fall after the feet had been free all summer, but that was seasonal and not a regular habit. What my friend referred to was a shoe that was not only too small, but also too big, that is, a shoe that was too big for the foot, but too small for the foot. I suppose that these were the principles behind the custom of squeezing the foot into a shoe that was too small, but I had not mentioned one from the day of its first wearing. It was customary for people to complain of their feet and feet as women, for it was almost a family disgrace for some tall, big boy to wear a number twelve. Frankly, there were good many people in other times who had feet smaller proportionately than are feet today; I am quoting shoe dealers when I say this and am not merely trying to feel too kind toward older people. But even the smallest feet were often subjected to painful squeezing every time the shoes went on. Now getting a foot into a snug shoe or a boot is no small job anyway, when the footwear is plenty large, when the foot has been working in the wet and has a hard brook to wriggle and force his foot into, there is nothing quite so painful.

One thing that made the tight shoe even more uncomfortable was the lack of correction of worn-out heels and run-over shoes. To walk all day on a pair of shoes that lean away from the alignment is a good way to produce permanent injury to one's feet and legs, not to mention his gait or his posture. I have seen many a person so wear out his shoes that the heel would be down to the uppers on one side but as good as new on the other. No wonder many of us liked to go barefooted as long as we could keep from being ashamed of our bare feet!

The very idea of a grown bare foot was repulsive to many dainty people. However the cut-babies' feet were, with the little pigs that went to market and the rest, grown-up feet were supposed to be ugly, indeed, even unmentionable. I have heard people speak of having seen the bare foot of grown people as if it were an event barely this side of criminality. I wonder what some of the old ladies I used to know would do if they could see the sandals of today, when actual toes are showing, when the nearest girl and even mature ladies go swimming barefooted or sometimes are seen in backyards without a sign of shoe. And they do not run screaming into the house when a man appears, with the rest of the body and were not unseemly things that should never be mentioned.

When I was teaching a far-Western-Kentucky village nearly forty years ago, I roomed with a merchant. One night when I went with him to his store when he had work to do, he rather shame-facedly showed me a pair of No. 10 ladies' shoes with high tops and buttons. He said that one of his customers, a well-to-do farmer's wife, had such a large foot that he had to make a special order for her. He felt that it was a bit indecent for me to see such large shoes, so he pledged me to secrecy. Since the wearer of those shoes died at an advanced age many years ago, I suppose I need not feel pained by my pledge. What I would like to know, however, is how many women in that county today would have great difficulty getting their feet into those same No. 10 shoes.

(Too late for last week)

Letter from Miss Lois Barger from Rochester, Minn., tells me her mother is able to sit up some each day in her hospital room. She is at the Kohler Hospital, the Mayo Clinic. Her husband and daughter are both with her. Her son, J. T. Barger, who flew there with her, has returned to his business in Lawrenceburg, Ky., but will go back to come home with her after treatment is complete which will be several weeks more.

We had the pleasure of attending the achievement banquet at the Brown Hotel last Thursday evening. Mrs. Nancy Strange, Shepherdsville, very graciously took me and also Mrs. Hannah Reas, our county chairman, and Mrs. Hester. We were proud to see how our state, one of the three top ranking states, is responding to the challenge for more progress. What great results are being had.

"A million men and women giving one dollar each every year" is a suggested slogan.

E. V. Withers, Keith Jewell and Riley Clene of Hart County harvested 3,000 pounds of Ky. 31 fescue seed, most of which was sold within the county.

In addition to about 5,000 acres of winter cover crops, Hickman County farmers sowed 800 to 1,000 acres of Kentucky No. 1 barley to produce grain to feed.

POULTRY IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM FOR KENTUCKY
The Kentucky Poultry Improvement Association reports that approximately 107 Kentucky chicken hatcheries with a capacity of 5,407,615 eggs, and two turkey hatcheries with a capacity of 425,000 eggs, this year operated under provision of the National Poultry Improvement Plan. More than 4,000 approved flocks furnished eggs to these hatcheries.

Time Here To Have Home Meal Supply

It is not necessary to wait for freezing weather to butcher hogs, according to a University of Kentucky College of Agriculture circular called "Killing, Cutting and Curing Pork." A temperature of 38 degrees is sufficiently cool, and butchering can be done when it is warmer. Another reason for killing lighter hogs is that there is some way to chill the carcass. The circular says to keep hogs off feed at least 24 hours before killing, but allow water. Avoid chasing or otherwise abusing the animal.

First-class pork can be made only from well-finished hogs of proper size. Medium-size hogs weighing 175 to 225 pounds are considered best.

Because of the high percentage of fat, cuts from larger hogs are poorer in quality. Another reason for killing lighter hogs is that more feed is required to produce a pound of gain as the animal increases in weight.

Champion Steer Sells For $9.00 Pound
Nearly 3,000 fat calves were entered in the Louisville 4-H Club and F.F.A. Fat Cattle Show and Sale at the Bourdon Stock Yards last week.

Tony Cosanougher of Garrard County had the grand champion steer of the entire show again. This blocky 985-pound steer was purchased by the Viannan Packing Company at $9 per pound, an all-time record high for any steer sold east of the Mississippi River. The Kroger Company purchased.

progressed rapidly during October but is somewhat later than last year with only fair to good stands reported. Corn yield remained unchanged from the previous month with only a slight general throughout the State.

LOOKING AHEAD
GEORGE S. BENSON
President, Kentucky College of Agriculture

A SPEECH WAS MADE
A letter came to my desk a few weeks ago containing one paragraph that astonished me. It read: "At the church conference held in this southern district a speech was made against the profit motive." That any American group, particularly a religious group, should raise its voice against the profit motive struck me as amazing.

To get rid of the profit motive, you would have to find some substitute for economics in modern civilization. You would have to eliminate all trading and marketing, buying and selling. You would have to get rid of money and other mediums of exchange. You would have to cease bartering and swapping. In fact, you would have to give up the entire civilization to self-sufficiency of the individual.

Only Two Ways
A modern complicated civilization like our own could not do without trade, exchange, manufacturing, raw material production. You just have to ask more than it cost you. That is what profit motive is. And without profit motive, trade and commerce would die.

There are only two ways that an economy may operate. In America individuals own farms, stores, factories, and run them for the chief purpose of making enough profit to live on. Americans also want to buy some of the products of other people who work. If demand and opportunity are there, these business may be expanded and enlarged. The other way for government to own everything, operating all production merely for the purpose of feeding the people and supplying what it thinks are their needs.

Compare The Two
The profit motive is the very foundation of our American way of life. We have always encouraged private ownership of farms, stores, manufacturing plants. This is the constitutional way in our country. It has produced more enthusiasm, finer cooperation, and a greater abundance of clothing, food, housing, and transportation than the masses of the people have ever known in any other country.

The other kind of economy, owned and operated by the government, attempts to do away with the profit motive. Actually, it does away with the initiative, individual initiative, and efficiency. This kind of economy soon runs down to a "what-is-the-use" status, offering only the barest necessities to its people. Russia is a good example of this.

Russia has attempted to substitute other enthusiasms for those of owning property and making profit, but she has found that whenever she wanted increased industrial output she had to imitate some of the incentives that are so common in America.

Advance Agents?
The very concepts of freedom of the individual spring from the Bible. Therefore you will find the foundation for the freedoms and liberties that America has built upon. Wherever Christian concepts prevail, there you will find the trust freedom and prosperity. I am sure that the reason why church leaders are willing to attack the profit motive. To do so indicates tremendous misunderstanding of the American way of life, of our constitutional government, and the freedoms of the individual.

Let us not confuse greed and blended fabrics are very popular with the younger crowd. The rayon in the fabric adds sheen and strength, and the wool lends warmth and resiliency. Best of all, the price is within the range of everyone. The smart two-tone suit in Avicore rayon and wool emphasizes the new long torso look.

Late Fall Weather Favorable To Crops
Weather conditions during October continued favorable to the maturing of fall crops.

Tobacco is reported to be curing satisfactorily with stripping rather general throughout the State. An indicated all tobacco yield of 1,182 pounds per acre compares with an indicated yield of 1,161 pounds last month, and the 1946 yield of 1,218 pounds.
